

Difference between Study Session and Stage-0 project in AGS [Rev2]

2017-05-17 Toshihiro Inokuchi (former TC100 Assistant Secretary)

2017-09-25 Satoshi Terasaki (TC100 Assistant Secretary)

Flow for AGS Study Session

Study Session is an internal activity in TC100/AGS for accelerating the investigation of new standardization item in TC100.

Comparison between Study Session and Stage-0 project

item	SS: Study Session	PT100-xx : Stage-0 project (AGS origin)
Purpose	Accelerating the investigation of new standardization item in TC100.	Develop TR and/or NP within the scope that AGS recommends.
Leader	Appointed by AGS (AGS internal approval)	Recommended by AGS and confirmed with AC document (Official approval by NCs)
Member	In addition to AGS/AGM members, invited experts from outside of IEC by AGS/AGM (Call for member through AGS/AGM collaboration tool)	Experts from NCs and official liaison organizations only (Call for members to all NCs by issuing AC document)
Project number	SS number is assigned in AGS (AGS internal number)	PT 100-xx number is assigned by IEC CO (Listed on IEC tools)
Expected outcome	I. Identify standardization point II. Establish Stage-0 project	I. Develop TR II. Develop the draft of NP document.
Term	Review period 2 years	Completion of project
Meeting	NOT listed in MRS (Meeting Registration System) (encouraged to utilize remote meeting system)	Can be listed in MRS (Meeting Registration System)